

Pastoral Supervision & Reflective Practice

Certificate & Diploma

Reflective Practice

This training course is delivered as a combination of participative day workshops and independent study. It provides participants with the skills and theoretical knowledge required to work confidently and effectively as pastoral supervisors within a wide range of settings. Some of the key areas covered by this course are:

- Models of supervision
- Setting up the working relationship and building rapport (contracting)
- Skills practice
- Attending to the context in which the supervision takes place
- Creative methods in supervision
- Boundaries and ethical working practices

This course is open to both lay and ordained and consists of four modules of three days each. Participants can choose to exit the programme with either a certificate or diploma. These qualifications are validated by the Institute of Pastoral Supervision and Reflective Practice. The course training hours exceed those required for senior accreditation with APSE.

VENUE: Quaker Study Centre Woodbrooke, Birmingham

DATES: 22-24th Feb 2018, 3-5th May 2018, 19-21st July 2018, 27-29th Sept 2018

COST: £300 per module (includes module assessment fees).

TIME: 9.30– 4.30 (arrive 9.15 for prompt start at 9.30)

Participants can book overnight accommodation directly with Woodbrooke
Further details and application forms available from aj Nolan msc@hotmail.com

TRAINERS: Tony Nolan & Bob Whorton

Tony is an accredited supervisor with APSE and a member of the Institute of Pastoral Supervision and Reflective Practice. He has been working reflectively with groups and individuals for many years. Tony has a private practice as a supervisor, group facilitator, mediator and spiritual director.

Bob is a Methodist Minister who has worked in both circuit and healthcare chaplaincy. He is an accredited supervisor with APSE (Association of Pastoral Supervision and Education) a member of the Institute of Pastoral Supervision & Reflective Practice, and spiritual director. Bob has authored/edited three books.